14.10 Reasonableness. The Parties have read each of the terms in the Terms of Use and consider each of them, including all subparts, to be reasonable.

14.11 Savings Clause. In the event that any provision of the Terms of Use is held to be void or unenforceable by a Court of competent jurisdiction, the remaining provisions of the Terms of Use shall nevertheless be binding upon the Parties with the same effect as though the void or unenforceable part had been deleted. Further, any provision held to be void or unenforceable by a Court of competent jurisdiction shall be construed, if possible, to give effect to the Parties' intent. The Parties agree that any such provision, in its form so modified by the court, shall then be enforceable and shall be enforced.

14.12 Statute of Limitations. To the extent permitted by law, any claim or cause of action arising out of or related to use of the Website and/or Company Services shall be filed within one (1) year after such claim or cause of action arose. 14.13.1 No waiver of any breach of any provision of this Terms of Use shall constitute a waiver of any prior, concurrent or subsequent breach of the same or any other provisions hereof, and no waiver shall be effective unless made in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the waiving party.

14.13.2 The failure of Company to insist, in any one or more instances, upon the performance of any of the terms of this Terms of Use or to exercise any right hereunder, shall not be construed as a waiver of the future performance of any such term or the future exercise of such right.

14.13.3 No employee, agent or representative, including without limitation a customer service representative, of Company shall be entitled to waive any term of the Terms of Use or any other Company's agreement or policy.
